PLAGIARISM POLICY

At N. S. S. College, Ottapalam, faculty, research scholars, and students are encouraged to conduct and write research findings and project reports in an ethical manner. Plagiarism is the act of copying any portion of someone else's work and passing it off as your own, regardless of whether the material is in the public domain or covered by copyright. It is unethical to do so; if copyrighted material is involved, it can infringe property rights.

According to the college's plagiarism policy, "Students, faculty, and research scholars at N. S. S. College, Ottapalam, are expected to be honest in every area of their academic work." All the work submitted as original has to have been created by the individual. It is unacceptable to present someone else's work as one's own, cheat, commit plagiarism, or engage in other academic dishonesty. Each faculty member, research scholar, and student working in a group has personal responsibility for the group project's overall academic integrity.
